Education in Russia

System of Higher Education in Russia

The educational system in Russia is similar to the European and American educational systems:

- 2 cycle educational system:
  - undergraduate level in Russia: Bachelor degree,
  - postgraduate level in Russia: Master degree and Ph.D.
- Credit transfer system.
- Academic exchange programs on the basis of ECTS (European Credit Transfer System).
- European diploma supplement.

The main difference between Russian and European educational systems is our: 5-year engineer / Specialist programs.

Russia signed the Bologna agreement (Integrating process of developing a common European educational system). As a result, the number of non-degree programs in Russia is decreasing.

If you the Secondary School Certificate or an equivalent, you can study through all levels, from Bachelor through Doctoral Studies.

A degree or diploma holder of institution of higher education can be admitted to the appropriate learning level after accreditation of his/her prior education. The university can offer you instruction either in Russian or in English.

Those who would like to take courses in Russian must be fluent in Russian and present the Russian Language State Certificate as evidence. The most effective way in reaching this goal is to take the one year Preparatory Course.
